Understanding the Mass

Part 3

Preparing the Altar & Gifts

In Between Time

The movement between the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist requires a moment of transition. At a dinner party, there is ultimately a moment when the host invites those gathered to move from the living room to the dining table. At Mass, this transition must happen as well—though the transition doesn't involve us changing our seats.

Setting the Table of the Lord, the Altar

When a church is consecrated or a new altar is installed in a church, the altar must be consecrated. The beautiful rite of consecrating an altar requires that the bishop anoint the altar with Sacred Chrism, the Christ oil. As such the altar bears the presence of Christ, the "anointed one."

For this reason, only those things needed for the celebration of the Mass should ever be placed upon the altar. Those items are:

The Book of the Gospel—at the beginning of Mass, the Book of the Gospel is placed on the altar to signify the connection between the Word and the Eucharist.

The Altar Cloth—the Roman Missal requires that one white altar cloth cover at least the top of the altar (the mensa). If a second cloth is used, it may be white or a festive or seasonal color. Prior Missals required three cloths with the one in between being a cerecloth (a linen cloth imbedded with wax) so that a spill of the Precious Blood could be easily cleaned.

The Corporal—a corporal is a square linen cloth onto which is placed the prepared ciborium (container for the hosts) and chalice (cup for the wine/Precious Blood). Corporals are usually marked with a cross and are ironed in such a way that when folded, any particles of the Blessed Sacrament are contained within.

The Purificator—a purificatory is another linen cloth, rectangular in shape that is used to wipe the chalice. It is likewise marked with a cross and ironed in a particular manner so as to fit across the top of a chalice. Along with the corporal, a purificator, which may have absorbed the Precious Blood, are purified by being soaked in the sacrarium (a special sink in the sacristy that drains directly into the earth instead of the sewer system). After having been soaked, they may be machine washed and then ironed by hand.

The Pall—a pall is square of dense paper or plastic that is covered with linen and often decorated. It is used to cover the chalice during the celebration of Mass so as to prevent insects or debris from falling into the chalice.

The Chalice Veil and Burse—the paten (plate for the large host used by the priest) and chalice are assembled in a particular manner. The purificator is placed over the chalice; the paten is placed on top of the purificator. The pall is then placed over the paten. A veil, usually made of fabric that matches the priest's vestments or the altar cloth, is placed over chalice and paten. On top is placed a burse—a square "pocket" covered with linen and usually decorated into which is placed the corporal.

Candles—out of reverence for the altar which is Christ, candles are placed on or near the altar. At least two candles are required. More may be used in accord with the solemnity of celebration. When the bishop visits a parish church, a seventh candle is added. The tradition of adding a seventh candle is of unknown origin but likely relates to "fullness" as expressed in the days of the week, the Sacraments and even to the Jewish seven-branched menorah.

The Roman Missal and Stand—the prayers for the entire Liturgy are found in the Roman Missal. It therefore must be placed on the altar for the celebration of Mass. In accord with the presiders preference, a stand may be used so that he can see the texts more clearly.

The Collection and Presentation of the Gifts

Following the Prayer of the Faithful, the assembly is seated and an Offertory Song or an instrumental piece is played. An offertory collection is taken among the faithful—these monetary offerings are gifts from our work and so represent us. They are used for the support of the Church, its mission and the care of the poor. Once completed the monetary offering along with the bread and wine, also works of human hands that represent us, are brought to the sanctuary in procession. Like other processions in the Liturgy, this again is a moment for the assembly to be united as their offerings and individual intentions are brought to the Lord.

Understanding the Mass: Preparing the Altar & Gifts

This is a significant moment in the Liturgy because, as noted above, the gifts brought to the altar symbolize us humans. The bread and wine, made by human hands which nourish us in our daily lives, are presented and transformed into Body and Blood of Christ meaning that we too are transformed. And then they are given to us as Holy Communion to effect that transformation—that we, indeed, may become what we receive.

For this reason, aside from the monetary collection, only bread and wine are presented in the presider. Water or flowers are not made by human hands, they are already divine gifts, so they do not represent us. Empty vessels are not be transformed in the Liturgy and so should not be included in the presentation of the gifts.

Preparation of the Chalice

The ciboria and hosts are placed adjacent to the corporal while the chalice is prepared. The priest or deacon adds a drop of water to the chalice while praying: by the mystery of this water and wine, may we come to share in the divinity of Christ who humbles himself to share in our humanity. Water, a divine gift, here represents Christ who, by the mystery of the Incarnation, joined in our humanity, represented by the wine—a work of human hands.

This ritual dates to a time when water needed to be added to the wine which was stored in concentrated form so as to make it drinkable. As with many practical things in the Liturgy, the action was given religious meaning.

Prayers of the Priests Over the Gifts

After the deacon, or the priest himself, has prepared the chalice, the presider quietly prays over the ciborium or paten: Blessed are you, Lord God of all creation, for through your goodness we have received the bread we offer: fruit of the earth and work of human hands, it will become for us the bread of life. To which, if there is no music, the people respond Blessed be God for ever. A similar prayer is prayed over the chalice: Blessed are you, Lord God of all creation, for through your goodness we have received the wine we offer you: fruit of the vine and work of human hands, it will become our spiritual drink. Again, the people respond: Blessed be God for ever.

The priest then bows and silently prays: With humble spirit and contrite heart may we be accepted by you, O Lord, and may our sacrifice in your sight this day, be pleasing to you, Lord God. The priest then turns and washes his hands while saying: Wash me, O Lord, from my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin.

Again the action of the priest washing his hands is rooted in the time when actual gifts were presented (the bread, wine, animals, fruits, vegetables, etc...). His hands, being dirty, needed washing. When such things were no longer presented, the hand washing took on spiritual significance taken from Psalm 51 which recounts David's unworthiness before God.

The Prayer Over the Gifts

As the priest calls upon the assembly to pray: pray my brothers and sisters that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable to God, the almighty Father. The people respond: May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands, for the glory and praise of his name, for our good and the good of all his holy Church.

The assembly, now standing, are ready to hear the prayer prayed over the gifts which unites the actions, prayers and gestures into a single prayer that offers the bread and wine.

Parish News

New Parish Mass Schedule

My dear friends,

As you know per the Bishop's Decree all parishes must decrease their Masses by one or two depending on their circumstances, we are required to reduce our Mass times by one. We will be going from five Masses to four Masses on the weekend (this includes the Saturday evening Vigil Mass and our four Sunday Masses).

After consultation with the parish leadership, input from the clergy, and prayerful consideration we will begin something new, one Mass time will be reduced as per the Decree and all other mass times will change a little. This way it is not just one group asked to carry the load. St. Paul reminds us that, "so that there may be no division in the body, but that the parts may have the same concern for one another. If one part suffers, all the parts suffer with it; if one part is honored all the parts share its joy." (1 Corinthians 12:25-26) Jesus also commands us to yoke ourselves with one another (to be joined together to carry the load) and to eliminate one Mass time and ask the others to do nothing is to not share the load. Beyond just the losing or giving up of something, there is also something new and good that will come out of this and change though difficult always produces something new and wonderful.

Next week we will place cards in the pews with six different mass time scenarios. We ask for your input in choosing one only. Please prayerfully consider which choice is best, not just for yourself but for the parish as a whole. We will do this after the homily and folks can bring up their cards along with their weekly envelope at the time of the collection.

Thank you all for your input, but most of all for your great love of our parish.

God bless you, Fr. John

Stewardship

Humble Stewardship

"...for whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted." LUKE 18:14

Stewardship
a way of life

Pride and ego are the root causes of most of our sins. Thinking your time is so valuable or your talent is better than anyone else or your money gives you status is another way of making those things "gods" before God. In Stewardship, pride is the opposite of humility. Remember, all that we have and all that we are is a gift from God. We should be humbled by God's incredible generosity and be grateful for all we have been given. Ultimately, gratitude leads us to humility.

NEEDED: Volunteers for Visits to Homebound Parishioners

We need additional EMs for Home Visits to Sick and Homebound Parishioners on Sunday morning or mid-week... only once a month

The ministry of visiting homebound parishioners continues to expand as the Pandemic becomes normative and we need your help... only once a month.

WE WILL TRAIN YOU IF YOU ARE NOT AN EXTRAORDINARY MINISTER OF THE EUCHARIST, and you do not need to minister on the altar, you can focus on serving the homebound

There are 5 Eucharistic Ministers on each of the five Sunday teams. One member of each team visits 2-3 parishioners each week. Each person has an assigned week of the month and visits on that one day per month. The 5th team member is a "substitute" for that team and for the occasional "5th week" when it occurs. The mid-week team has a less formal schedule.

If interested, please call George Sundell at 856-755-0174 or email to GSundell1@gmail.com

LIVING IN THE LIGHT

The Word

Reading for October 23, 2022

Luke 18: 9-14

Adults:

Jesus says that the Pharisee's belief that he is better than the tax collector interferes in his relationship with God. How can someone be proud of themselves without being prideful?

We offer this form of Lectio Divina (sacred reading) for pondering Scripture and for faith sharing with family members and other people.

- Listen/ Read (Lectio): Ponder God's word and listen for what touches your heart.
- Meditate (Meditatio): Attend to what you notice. Allow God's word to resonate in you.
- Speak/Share (Oratio): Prayerfully share with Jesus or with the group your thoughts and feelings.
- Rest in God's presence (Contemplatio): Notice God's presence and be still, surrounded by God's love.
- Choose to act (Actio): Trusting in God's nearness, commit to action rooted in love.

Teens:

Jesus says that the Pharisee's belief that he is better than the tax collector interferes in his relationship with God. What does it mean to be humble and how can pride be dangerous?

Children:

Can you name something that a friend or family member does better than you that you admire?

Men's Spirituality Group

Come check out our Men's Spirituality Group. It is about each man supporting one another to become a transformed man of God; a better person, husband, father, partner, son, brother, and friend. Our next monthly meeting is taking place Saturday, October 29th at 6:00 AM in the St. Lorenzo Room. This group is open to all men age 18 and over. All races, creeds, sexual orientations, and levels of church participation are invited.

Bereavement Ministry

At Christ Our Light bereavement ministers play a critical role in letting parishioners know we are with them at a time of loss. Bereavement ministers meet with families to help them plan the funeral for their loved ones. They also help out at the annual November 2 All Souls Mass of remembrance and provide support for those experiencing loss.

Formation for this ministry includes a one hour class followed by the opportunity to shadow experienced bereavement ministers until you feel comfortable in this ministry. If you are interested in becoming a bereavement minister, please contact Pat Slater in the parish office 856-667-2440 x. 327 or by email at pslater@christourlight.net.

Youth Ministry Reflections

Here are some faithful reflections being discussed at YFF this season. God's richest blessings!

What is something I am most grateful for?

I am grateful for being able to sing with a good voice. I show appreciation by using it. I am in the Philadelphia Boys Choir. I try to audition for most solos. I also sang with Philly Pops and sang a solo last year at their Christmas concert. I also take voice lessons. When I go to church, I am up in the choir loft with my mother, who is the church singer (at St. Mary's in Gloucester City). She asks me to sing with her and I do. I want to use this gift that God gave me to show I am grateful for it.

Carmelo Carino, 7th Grade

Why Do I Continue with my Faith Formation?

I do this because I get to be true to myself and others I continue to live out my faith by telling other about Jesus' teachings. I also share daily- Where I have I noticed God's presence in my life. I notice God's presence often when I read a book to my grandmother. It makes me feel really good.

Chris Chase, 9th Grade

What Do I Receive From Youth Meets?

- Leadership opportunities
- Continued Faith dialogue with my church community.
- Prayer and Quiet time at church.
